TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

[REPORTED FOR THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Later from the West—Particulars of the Late Battle—Loss Heavy on Both Sides—New Orleans Refugees, &c.

JACKSON, May 19.—Jackson dates of the 18th give the particulars of Saturday's fight. From the Adjutant of the Mississippi, from Canton last night, we learn the battle fought at Baker's Creek, about twenty miles west of Jackson. We whipped the enemy badly until reinforced from Jackson. Pemberton then fell back to the Black Bridge. Pemberton estimates our loss at 3,000, three times as many. Gen. Loring was on the left was cut off but cut his way through to Crystal Springs, twenty-five miles South of Jackson. His loss is unknown. Gen. Tilghman was killed. All the refugees from Jackson. Cannonading is now coming daily. Banks has extended his time of leaving to the 25th.

There was a Concert and Exhibition by the children of the Baptist Sabbath School at the Baptist Church last evening. The attendance was large and the concert pleasing. We were kindly furnished with tickets and very much regretted our inability to attend.

GEN. JACKSON'S REMAINS AT LEXINGTON.—We take from the Lynchburg Virginian of Saturday, the account of the reception of the remains of Gen. Jackson at Lexington:

The remains of the lamented Jackson, under escort of a portion of his staff, the Governor of the State, and a committee from Lynchburg, arrived at Lexington at 2 o'clock on Thursday. They were received at the boat landing by the corps of cadets, under General F. H. Smith, the professors of the Institute and a large number of citizens, and were escorted in solemn procession to the institute barracks, where they were deposited in the old lecture room of the illustrious deceased. The room was just as he left it years before, save it was heavily draped in mourning—not having been occupied since his absence. The hall which so often echoed the voice of the modest and unknown professor, received back the laurel-crowned hero with the applause of the world and the benedictions of a nation resting upon him. It was a touching scene, and brought tears to many eyes, when the body was deposited just in front of the favorite chair from which his lectures were delivered. Professors, students, visitors, all were deeply moved by the sad and solemn occasion, and gazed in mute sorrow on the affecting spectacle—the dead hero lying in his familiar lecture room. Guns were fired every half hour during the day in honor of the departed chieftain, and an air of gloom was visible on every face.

The funeral was to take place yesterday at 11 o'clock at the Presbyterian Church, of which the deceased was a member—Dr. White, the able pastor, officiate.

Arrangements were being made for a large procession, civil and military, and for a great fenebrial display.

The remains were then to be deposited in the cemetery connected with the same church, where the first wife and a child of the departed are buried. There near by the noble institution he loved so fondly, he will rest well, while fresh and fragrant in the hearts of his countrymen, his memory will repose to the latest posterity.

A BRIEF BUT EXPRESSIVE LETTER FROM A YANKEE GIRL.—In a skirmish Saturday on the Rappahannock with the 95th Pennsylvania, in which the latter got the worst of it and ran, one of the knapsacks of the flying Yankees was captured, and in it a letter from "Martha," his sweatheart, who lives in Philadelphia. We copy a portion of it, spelling and all:

"John, if I cold sea you I t' ink I cold amuse you a while. You spoke of seating lots of fun running the Rebels from the Rappahannock, but I don't think it much fun when half that went off in the 95th is killed and nearly all t'e rest is wounded. You said you did not get hurt in the Battle you had better watch for the Rebels will shoot you, they have killed lots of our Friends that you use to know. I heard that they had killed onkul Joseph and nearly all of his regt is kill and wounded and missing. The regt will be ronined. John I haint got any fresh news to write, times are dull heare and no fun for us girls at all. I want you all to come home and let the rebels home for you cant whip them no how and we can live without them. You will stay there until all of you get killed I am afraid.

NEWBERN ITEMS.—The New York World publishes a letter from Newbern, N. C., dated May 6th, from which we extract the following:

A sensation was created here by the marriage this morning of Charles W. Lawrence, of Boston, a member of the 44th Massachusetts, to the accomplished daughter of Israel Discoway, a banker in Newbern. After making a transfer of his property to the bridegroom, the father left our lines with other disloyal citizens.

NEW AUCTION AND COMMISSION HOUSE.
CREECH & LITCHFORD.

WE HAVE THIS DAY FORMED A COPARTNERSHIP in the General Auction and Commission business, viz., for the sale of Goods, Wares and Merchandize, Real and Personal Property, &c., &c.

Our Store is large and commodious, fronting on Fayetteville and Harget streets, in the centre of the business of the city, and universally conceded to be the best location in the place for the business.

Both of us having been engaged for the past seventeen years in the Mercantile or Auction business in this city, we flatter ourselves that we can make it to the interest of parties to make their consignments to us for either private Commission or Auction sales.

A. CREECH,
April 21-1m J. J. LITCHFORD.

MISCELLANEOUS.

DESIRABLE INVESTMENT IN TEXAS LANDS.

ONE-HALF OF THE

JUSTO LIENDO TRACT.

THIS TRACT OF DESIRAPLE LANDS WAS SELECTED for his home site many years since, by Col. M. B. Menard, who was an extensive land owner in Texas, and one of the leading founders of the city of Galveston. The property has never passed out of his family, since its purchase by him, and one-half of it only is now offered for sale for a change of investment, and will be sold in parcels of one-fourth of a league, or 1,100 acres each.

It is situated in Milan county, within the

about 45 miles North-Eastward from the Capital of the State, and about 55 miles Northwestwardly from Brenham, the present terminus of Railroad communication with Galveston and Houston.

The tract is divided in two nearly equal parts by Brushy Creek, (emptying into San Gabriel river,) and comprises an admirable combination of lands for agricultural and pastural pursuits. High and dry post oak lands, filled with fencing materials;

ROLLING PRAIRIE, WITH

commanding a view of the entire tract;

RICH TIMBERED BOTTOM

on both sides of the Creek, rising from there to a fine prairie covered with mesquite grass (not the bearded) and which extends uninteruptedly to the banks of the San Gabriel, from 12 to 15 miles distant.

UNSURPASSED FOR GRAZING PURPOSES,

This region of country is not surpassed by any in Texas, in

REGULARITY OF SEASONS,

DELIGHTFUL CLIMATE AND

and the tract itself forms one of the best investments for present use or future profit to be found in Texas,

THE LAND OF PROMISE AND OF PEACE.

During the dry year of 1860 in Texas, Mr. Conolly's farm, (on a portion of the tract,) yielded an average of 50 bushels of corn, and 15 bushels of wheat to the acre. There are numerous flouring mills in Milan, and the adjoining counties of Bell and Williamson.

All the small grains grow well, cotton yields one bale to the acre, horses, mules, sheep, hogs and and are largely raised throughout the region. The titles to the land have never been questioned, and are unquestionable, and there are no squatters on it. The settled portion of the State extends far beyond Milan county, in every direction.

HORNED CATTLE THRIVE

The property now belongs to J. S. Thrasher, Superintendant of the Press Association, and one-half of it is offered for sale, only because the acceptance of the duties of his public position involves the necessity of a partial change in his investments.

It is offered at private sale until the 7th day of August, when if not disposed of, it will be sold at public auction, without reserve, for cash, in Confederate Treasury notes in the city of Atlanta.

For further information, and plan of tract apply to

MILITARY NOTICES.

Chief Enrolling Office,
6TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT,
Salisbury, N. C., May 11, 1863.

To all the officers of the several regiments of North Carolina Militia in the 8th Congressional District:

IN OBEDIENCE TO "SPECIAL ORDERS, NO. 426," hereto appended, to which your particular attention is called, I hereby request you to send to camp immediately, all hands who are within the ages of eighteen and forty, employed within the bounds of your regiment in getting cross-ties and cord-wood for the various railroads. You will collect, enroll and send to camp all conscripts not so engaged, in the bounds of your regiments, whether they originally belonged to it or not. Track hands, not engaged in their proper and peculiar business, but getting cross-ties and cord-wood, will be sent to camp. You will also promptly report to me the names of all conscripts sent to camp under this order.

Any delay or negligence in the execution of this request will be promptly reported to Gen. D. G. Fowle, Adj't. General of the N. C. Militia.

Everything of an individual character will be charged for as advertisements.

We are prepared to do every species of Job Printing with promptness.

Power Press Wanted.—The proprietor of the Progress wants to buy a POWER PRESS for newspaper and book work. Any person having one to sell will please communicate with us immediately.

The news from the West looks better than it did yesterday, but still not as good as we could wish it. A dispatch from Mobile, dated the 19th, informs us that the battle of last Saturday was fought at Baker's Creek, some twenty miles west of Jackson, and that we whipped the enemy badly until reinforced from Jackson, when Gen. Pemberton fell back to the bridge on the Big Black river. Our loss Gen. Pemberton estimates at three thousand, and that of the enemy at not less than nine thousand. If these figures approximate anything like the truth it shows the fighting to have been desperate.

The enemy being reinforced from Jackson seems to imply that it was another column that our forces encountered, which was reinforced after the battle commenced by the force that entered Jackson, estimated at forty thousand men.

We are not positive as to the location of "Baker's Creek," but suppose the scene of the conflict of Saturday to be in the direction of Vicksburg from Jackson, and that Gen. Pemberton fell back to a position that places him between the enemy and Vicksburg.

We hope that all that Gen. Pemberton says about the advantage in the fight and the heavy loss of the enemy may prove true, but when the Yankees fall back we somehow always think they are whipped, and so it turns out despite their attempts to explain away their "change of base;" and our forces having fallen back before the enemy, on Saturday last, after heavy loss, forces upon us the unpleasant conclusion that we were worsted if not whipped. The "situation" in Mississippi, judging from the lights before us, is anything but flattering, and unless we can reinforce and whip Grant out of the State, the fall of Vicksburg becomes only a question of time. We would gladly view affairs in that quarter in a more favorable light but candor compels us to speak as we do.

If Vicksburg is to be attacked, as seems most probable, the enemy will hardly bring less than one hundred thousand men to the work, probably more, and to meet and repel them our force must be largely augmented. The hot and sickly season is at hand in that section and the enemy know it, and what they mean to do will be done quickly; and if we mean to hold Vicksburg and free Mississippi from invasion, destruction and ruin, we must act promptly and vigorously.

It is expected that the contending armies will soon meet again, if they have not already, and that a desperate and decisive battle will be fought in Mississippi, and hence the feverish anxiety to hear from that quarter will continue. We refer to our telegraph column for the latest.

The Militia.

The militia are now being used to pick up deserters and watch bridges. To arrest deserters and return them to duty, is the duty of every good citizen whether subject to milita duty or not, but the watching of bridges is another and a very different thing. If the Railroad Companies want four men as a guard at each bridge, their enormous profits abundantly enable them to place such a force there, and if the government desires this additional protection for its transportation, there are men enough in the pay of the government to perform the duty. Men who are not in the service are supposed to be exempted for good and sufficient cause, and to force them to perform such duty is calculated to derange the industrial pursuits of the country, without which the government cannot be sustained nor the war successfully carried on. We should not object to calling out the militia if any good could be accomplished thereby, but we hardly think that guarding the property of Railroad Companies comes in the sphere of their duties. And besides, their absence from home just at this time will interfere seriously with the crops, upon which much depends.

To Advertisers.—We would suggest to advertisers who wish to avail themselves of the advantages of the large circulation of the Progress, that to insure the insertion of their advertisements, they would do well always to send them to us direct. Advertisements are sometimes put in other papers, with some of which we do not exchange and scarcely ever see, with a request for us to copy, and we make this notice that the parties may know, should their advertisements not be inserted in the Progress when thus ordered, the reason of the failure. We do not exchange with the State Journal, published in this city, and we hope no one, after this notice, will request us to copy advertisements from it. If any one wishes to advertise in the Progress, let them send the advertisement directly to us.

Our circulation is larger than that of any daily paper in the State and constantly increasing. Business men will consult their own interest by putting their advertisements where they will be seen.

We have the Jackson Mississippian of the 12th, the last paper issued from that office, we suppose, before Grant possessed the town. The editorial and news columns of the paper before us show that the place was wonderfully excited, and in fact we doubt not but the alarm and consternation spread through the whole State. We copy one paragraph:

Governor Pettus has received official information that at 12 o'clock to-day a Federal force, computed at 1,000 cavalry, entered and burned the town of Crystal Springs, on the line of the New Orleans and Jackson Railroad.—This force belongs to Grant's command, and started from Utica. By this movement the down train which left Jackson this morning is cut off. What next? Jackson? Crystal Springs is only twenty-six miles from this city.

A writer in the Memphis Appeal [illegible] Holmes, who [illegible] in command [illegible] Mississippi [illegible] of Gen. [illegible] He may be all that, but we know that he [illegible] boro' all last summer with only fifteen or eighteen thousand men. To do entire justice, however, we may as well state that we have heard it asserted that Gen. Holmes would have evacuated Goldsboro' and attacked Newbern, but was restrained by the War Department.

We are much pleased to learn that Lieutenant Matt Manly, son of Judge M. E. Manly, was not killed in the fight near Fredericksburg, as published by us, but was slightly wounded and is a prisoner in Washington City. The notice of his death was very circumstantial, giving his age, his wounds, &c., in a letter addressed to us through the post office in a woman's hand writing, signed "L. T. Pierson." We envy not the heart and feelings of an individual who could cause such anguish and trouble as attended this deliberate, false announcement.

Retaliation.—The Dispatch says that two of the Yankee officers now in the Libby prison are shortly to be hung, in retaliation for the murder, by the order of Burnside, of a Captain and Lieutenant, recently executed under his infamous "death order." The two victims will be selected by lot from among the Captains and Lieutenants now in the prison. If the evidence of the murder of two of our officers by Burnside is unmistakable, we hope the government will not back down from its determination to retaliate.

From every section of the country we receive the most flattering accounts of the growing wheat crop. A gentleman writing from Rome, Ga., speaking of the crops says: "The wheat crop in this section is exceedingly fine, and is as promising as one could wish. Not a single stalk of it is as yet affected by the rust. The oat crop looks finely. The stand of corn is good, and a large area of ground is planted with it."

Death of a Worthy Citizen.—We learn that John Kane died very suddenly, at his residence near this city, yesterday morning. Mr. Kane was an Irishman, but had been a resident of this city for many years, where he has been universally known as a man of integrity and honor. He leaves a very good property, which has been accumulated by his own industry and labor.

The mail bags captured by Capt. Elliott, on the Chesapeake and Albemarle Canal, were opened at the Governor's office yesterday. In the lot were a number of Northern papers, some of them as late as the 13th. We are indebted to Gov. Vance and General Fowle for several of the latest dates. The news they contain has been anticipated by telegraph, but we may make extracts from them hereafter.

We are indebted to our courteous Provost Marshal, R. E. Walker, for the following names of prisoners taken on the canal by Capt. Elliott, who arrived here yesterday and were sent to Camp Holmes: Dr. W. W. Myers, U. S. N.; C. Thompson, Connecticut; J. D. Tinneman, 3d N. Y. Cavalry; P. S. Brinsly, 132d N. Y. Infantry.

Our Losses on the Rappahannock.—From the best informed sources our losses in the late battles in Virginia are put down at 1,000 killed, 4,000 wounded and 1,600 prisoners, making a total of 7,500.—The enemy's loss, by their own admission, is at least three times as large.

Rosecrans sends all the young men in his department, who refuse to take the oath, to the North.—We suppose they are sent on to fill up the three dollar a week boarding houses in Yankeedom, the proprietoresses of which are eternally advertising for "a few more genteel young men."

LATEST FROM THE NORTH.

The following interesting summary is made from the N. Y. Herald of the 15th:

Rumors about McClellan say he has resigned, and the President refused to accept. And again, that he was about to be placed at the head of the army.—Great excitement was produced thereby. His resignation is contradicted, and probably the rest will be.

Telegrams from Grant's army to the 8th say the advance was within 16 miles of Edward's station, 18 miles east from Vicksburg on the railroad, the army being 18 miles from Grand Gulf, encamped near the Big Black river. They had not possession of any part of the railroad between Jackson and Vicksburg. The battle at Clinton is doubtful—the last accounts state nothing about it. Grant is receiving heavy reinforcements. A new road overland has been made from Young's Point to the river below. Part of Sherman's corps had reached Grand Gulf.

The military inquiry in the case of Colonel Kimball show that the first statements are substantially correct.

The case of Vallandigham is said to be settled by the President disapproving the sentence of the Court, which was ratified by Burnside, and changing it from two years imprisonment at Tortugas to banishment from the Northern States. Burnside refused to obey the notification from the Circuit Court of Ohio that Vallandigham had applied for a writ of habeas corpus.

There was an insurrection at Port au Prince, headed by Gen. Aime de Gras, to overthrow the Government of Jeffrara. In 48 hours he was arrested, and all was quiet.

The warrant for the arrest of Capt. Armstrong, for failing to deliver Hambleton, late of Augusta, Ga., is still unserved, A. having left the city. H. has been removed to Fort Lafayette, and this will prevent any conflict between the civil and military powers. (?)

Speculation still continues in the stock market. Gold was dull at 150. Exchange 165. Breadstuffs lower.

A dispatch from Washington, dated May 13th, says:

It was stated that Hooker fell back in consequence of a council of war of the corps commanders. The public will be surprised to know that four of the six Generals present urged upon General Hooker an immediate advance on the rebel army; only two were in favor of recrossing the river. It is believed that a forward movement would have crushed the rebels.

The exportation of horses, mules and war material has been prohibited by order from the War Department, and all designed for exportation will be seized.

The Treasury is now abundantly supplied with legal tender notes, received in exchange for bonds. Its preparation of notes is confined to those of the smallest denomination.

[illegible] Charleston was captured on the [illegible] ton, whilst endeavoring to run the blockade.

[illegible], who executed the most brilliant part of the recent cavalry raid, has been assigned to an independent cavalry command.

[illegible] 160 of the prisoners captured in Virginia have agreed to take the oath of allegiance instead of being returned to the rebel service, and have been sent to [illegible].

Of the prisoners of war taken at the Rappahannock, 1,142 have been sent to Fort Delaware; 60 remain at Soldier's Rest, having given wrong names when captured; sent to be exchanged 900. Whole number, 2,132. (Nothing is said of civilians captured. They are doubtless counted among the above.)

The Herald says, editorially, "The exclusion of the New York newspapers from the Army of the Potomac is one of the most transparent of all the blunders of our military authorities in that quarter," and hopes "the President will by special order secure to the soldiers the privilege of newspapers against the silly caprices of blundering Generals."

The Herald, says the Tribune, of the 14th, throws Hooker overboard as a failure; says he has not advanced since he retreated with a larger army than the enemy after losing 17,000 men. It is equally severe on Stoneman; contends he accomplished little or nothing, not interrupting Lee's line of communication at all, or only for twenty-four hours.

Greeley, also, comes out fiercely against peace movements. Almost everybody is for peace. The terms are the only question. Peace must come at last. At present there appears little likelihood of peace, but it must come when one or the other finds out war will not pay. [Has it paid the North yet?]

The Herald says if Vallandigham is sentenced, Wendell Phillips should be also. It is opposed, however, to all such arrests, and is for free speech, free press, and trial by jury guarantied by the Constitution.

Hon. James Runington is United States Marshal for Florida.

The Herald says Lee and Hooker occupy their old positions and may perhaps remain so for some time. It is reported that Lee will move the bulk of his army to Hanover Junction. Another report says Lee is planting guns at U. S. and Bank's fords, and designs an offensive movement, or is guarding against another crossing. His opportunity was when Hooker was half over, but he was too much exhausted. It is said Hooker ordered a recrossing, according to his plan, before retreating, but Halleck overruled it. It is reported that Halleck will take command and crowd Lee as he did Beauregard out of Corinth, without knowing it. Then he will excel Burnside and Hooker. The facts prove Hooker unequal to so large an army, and that there was no necessity for his retreat. We do not suppose the army will move for some days or weeks to come. The rebels boast a great victory, with nothing to show for it. Halleck had better take command, for he at least will not be disturbed by conflicting orders from Washington.

The Democratic Committee at Albany have called a meeting of citizens, to be indignant and protest against Vallandigham's arrest and sentence.

The steamer Orizaba has sailed from San Francisco with over a million in treasure.

McClellan expressed great grief at Stonewall Jackson's death—said "he was sincere, true, and valiant. Lee is the ablest commander, but Jackson was the best executive officer the rebels had."

The Late Col. Purdie.—A correspondent of the Wilmington Journal pays the following tribute to Col. Purdie:

A soldier and gentleman, "sans peur et sans reproche."

Such was he whose name heads this article. Those who knew him, are not surprised that he fell, or that he fell at the head of his regiment, doing his duty bravely and well. They knew that he never shrank from the full discharge of his duty, and that his brave heart would prompt him to the station of honor and of peril. At that station he fell, and with him high hopes which failed of their "promised largess" only by untimely death.

Col. Purdie was indeed "without fear and without reproach." every inch a soldier and every inch a gentleman. All his qualities were good without alteration. Nature designed and finished him a man, a true man in every lofty sense of the term.

When such an one falls, particularly in times like these, there is more sorrow than that which broods around the hearth stone at home. Who is there to fill his place? What form so manly, what arm so strong, what heart so brave and fearless is there to lead those who loved to follow where he led, and feared not when his cool and steady step was onward to the foe! Let the gallant 18th avenge the death of their loved Commander, whose blood crieth to them from the ground, while his memory, bright, and spotless, and unsullied as the banner which they bore, stirs them, as his voice was wont to do, to brighter deeds of arms.

Personal.—Gen. Hindman, of Arkansas, [illegible] Preston, of Virginia, were in Charleston on Saturday last.

The citizens of Rome, Ga., have presented Gen. Forrest with a horse, and his admirers at Atlanta, Ga., propose to present him with a sword.

Tribute of Respect.

Hiram Lodge, No. 40, F. A. M.
Raleigh, May 18, 1863.

Whereas, We have heard with sorrow the announcement of the death of Brother JUNIUS TURNER, who died in hospital at Charleston, S. C., May 1, 1863: and whereas, we feel called on to pay a tribute of respect to the memory. Therefore Resolved, That by the death of Brother TURNER the country has been deprived of the services of a brave and gallant soldier, society of a useful member, the church a consistent christian, and Masonry of a bright ornament.

Resolved, That we tender to the bereaved family of the deceased, our heartfelt sympathy, and while we mingle our tears with theirs, over our common loss, we would point them to the unspotted record of his useful life and to the rest which remains for the people of God.

Resolved, That these resolutions be entered on our books, published in the city papers, and a copy furnished the family of our deceased brother with a certificate of his membership and standing in the Lodge.

Funeral Notice.

Died, yesterday morning, at his residence near this city, JOHN KANE, long and favorably known to nearly every man in the State who ever visited Raleigh.

His remains will leave for Raleigh for interment at 5 o'clock this (Thursday) morning. The friends of the deceased are respectfully invited to attend.

For Congress.—CAPTAIN WM. J. MOORE announces us to day, in reply to the numerous solicitations both in and out of the Army, received by him to become a candidate to represent the people of the 3d Congressional District of North Carolina, in the next Congress of the Confederate States, that if elected for that responsible position by the people, he will endeavor to discharge the duties with fidelity, and with the view to promote the speedy, success and prosperity of the Confederate States. The whole history of the means of communication, because the rapid movement of our armies and consequent interrupted mail facilities render it difficult for him to answer his friends in a different manner.
